

International Polytechnic High School

Virtual Information Sessions

IPoly is a specialized, public, college prep high school located on the campus of Cal Poly Pomona. IPoly's award-winning program centers around innovative Project-Based Learning (PBL). Run by Los Angeles County Office of Education (LACOE), IPoly has been offering a world-class education since 1993.

With only 500 students, IPoly has a small but vibrant community and a family-like atmosphere. Students are given support and guidance to get into their college of choice and are able to take concurrent college courses at Cal Poly Pomona and local community colleges while in high school. IPoly students become savvy critical thinkers, experienced public speakers, and knowledgeable global citizens.
