

March 25, 2020

Dear I Poly Community,

I hope that all of you are doing well during this extremely challenging time. As you know, the Coronavirus Pandemic has become a major health concern throughout the world affecting all of us. Los Angeles County Office of Education continues to take every precaution to provide support for your child's health and safety in this time of concern.

We continue to be in close contact with all of our agency partners, including California State University Los Angeles and California Polytechnic University, aligning our efforts to ensure a continuity of instruction for your child. Although your child is not coming to school every day, we are doing everything we can to support their learning. Additionally, please note that our schools are providing lunch services.

At this time, we have extended our current status of closures until May 5th, 2020. However, understand that this is subject to change. Please take care. If you have any questions, feel free to contact your site administrator.

Sincerely,

Dr. Debra Duardo, Superintendent
Los Angeles County Office of Education
